Benefiting from an impressive private garden of approximately 400m², this apartment offers a scale of outdoor living rarely associated with a two-bedroom apartment in such a sought-after location. The combination of a comfortable apartment, a generous patio area and an expansive garden creates a property with the feel and versatility of a much larger home. For buyers who value outdoor living, space and location, this is a particularly compelling opportunity. A Garden That Makes This Property Stand Out The outstanding feature of this apartment is undoubtedly its substantial private garden, extending to approximately 400m². Accessed directly from the ground-floor patio, the garden provides an exceptional amount of space to enjoy the Mediterranean climate throughout the year. Whether you envisage creating an elegant outdoor entertaining area, installing a pergola for shaded dining, designing a landscaped garden retreat or simply enjoying a private space to relax in the sunshine, the possibilities are extensive, subject to any applicable community rules and planning permissions. The size of the garden also makes this property especially appealing to families. There is ample room for children to play, enjoy outdoor activities and make the most of life outside, while adults can create separate areas for dining, entertaining, sunbathing or relaxation. Buyers interested in fitness, gardening or outdoor hobbies will also appreciate the additional flexibility that this garden provides. For those who have been searching for a villa-style outdoor lifestyle without necessarily purchasing a villa, this property offers an unusual alternative. The garden provides a sense of space and freedom that is difficult to find in a conventional apartment, particularly so close to Puerto Banús. Comfortable Living in a Sought-After Development The property is a two-bedroom ground-floor apartment within Terrazas del Rodeo, an established residential development known for its communal gardens and swimming pool facilities. Residents benefit from access to two communal swimming pools and landscaped communal grounds, providing attractive shared outdoor spaces in which to relax and enjoy the Costa del Sol lifestyle. The ground-floor position offers convenient access to the patio and garden, making the transition between indoor and outdoor living particularly appealing. For families, those who enjoy entertaining, or buyers who simply prefer direct access to outdoor space, this layout offers a distinct advantage. The apartment also benefits from a generously sized garage parking space and a separate storage room, adding valuable practicality for everyday living, beach equipment, bicycles, golf clubs and general household storage.
